B&H Equity
a subfund of Buy & Hold Luxembourg
Class 2 EUR (Accumulation) LU2278574558
 Management Company: Buy&Hold Capital SGIIC, S.A.

Objectives and Investment Policy

The investment objective of Buy & Hold Luxembourg – B&H Equity (the Subfund) is long-term capital appreciation by investing worldwide (including emerging Countries) in the international equity markets.

The Subfund shall invest in the following assets: (i) exchange traded shares and equity-type securities such as common stock, preferred stock, partnership shares and depository receipts (hereinafter referred to as Equity Transferable Securities); (ii) exchange traded financial derivative instruments for either hedging or investment purposes, as described below; (iii) in cash deposits and money market instruments and (iv) exceptionally in fixed-income or floating rate securities (including but not limited to bonds, notes, zero bonds, convertibles and warrants) preferably from private issuers and to a lesser extent from public issuers.

In general the Subfund shall direct its investments towards small and mid capitalisation Equity Transferable Securities, although it will not rule out investments in other large cap securities.

The Subfund targets to invest at least 75 % of its Net Asset Value in Equity Transferable Securities, without being limited to specific branches, countries or capitalizations which may lead to concentration risks.

Risk and Reward Profile

Historical data used may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Subfund.

This category is not guaranteed to remain unchanged and may shift over time.

The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment.

This indicator is a simulation based on the historical volatility of the reference portfolio a Spanish investment fund qualifies as an undertaking for collective investment in transferable securities which has been merged into the Subfund (the "merging sub-fund") over the past 5 years and places the Subfund in this category.

The Subfunds' capital is not guaranteed.

The Subfund is subject to the following risks that are not fully taken into account by this indicator:

- Investment in Small to Medium-sized Companies: investing in the securities of smaller, lesser-known companies involves greater risk and the possibility of price volatility due to the specific growth prospects of smaller firms, the lower degree of liquidity of the markets for such stocks and the greater sensitivity of smaller companies to changing market conditions.

- Liquidity Risk: it refers to the inability of the Subfunds to dispose of investments at a price equal or close to their estimated value within a reasonable period of time.
- Equity market risk: it is associated with investments in shares (and equity-type securities). In particular significant fluctuations in market prices, adverse issuer or market information.
- Interest rate risk, investment in fixed income securities may fall in value due to fluctuations in interest rates.
- Foreign exchange risk, The Subfunds' investments may be made in other currencies than the relevant Reference Currency and therefore be subject to currency fluctuations, which may affect the net asset value of the relevant Subfunds favorably or unfavorably.
- Credit risk: investing in fixed income securities are subject to the risk that issuers may not make payments on such securities.
- Emerging market risk: investments in emerging markets may carry a higher risk than investing in developed markets.
- Geographical or sector concentration risk: investment in securities of issuers located in a particular country or group of countries, such concentration will expose the Subfund to the risk of adverse social, political or economic events which may occur in that country or countries
